CONSENT TO USE OF PHOTOGRAPHIC IMAGES: Registration and attendance at TACHC meetings and other activities constitutes an agreement by the registrant to TACHC's use and distribution (now and in the future) of the registrant’s image in photographs, videotapes, electronic reproductions of such events and activities.
TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTERS

33rd ANNUAL CONFERENCE

(Agenda is subject to change without notice; current as of 10/4/2016)

Embassy Suites Dallas-Frisco/Hotel, Convention Center & Spa
Frisco, Texas
October 16-19, 2016

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE:
This is the 33rd Texas Association of Community Health Centers, Inc. (TACHC) Annual Conference. Since 1983, TACHC has brought together health center leadership, administrators, clinicians and board members to learn about significant issues occurring in the health care environment that impact health centers and vulnerable populations. These sessions are developed with the health centers’ wants and needs in mind to help the health centers improve their quality of work and continuously meet the needs of our patients and the communities we serve. All session handouts and conference materials will be available online for downloading for the sessions at https://www.tachc.org/2016conference

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THE CONFERENCE?
The TACHC Annual Conference is a knowledge-based continuing education (CE)event designed for CEOs/EDs, CFOs, COOs, CMOs, Billing Managers, outreach and communications staff, operations staff, health center board members, physicians, pharmacists, pharmacy technicians, nurses, dentists, behavioral health specialists, pharmacy staff, clinical staff, and other staff members of a community health center.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 15TH:

TACHC Nominations Committee Meeting (by invitation only)
12:00pm-4:00pm

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 16TH:

Group Visits (separate registration required; bus transportation provided)
Los Barrios Unidos Community Clinic, 4732 W Illinois Ave., Dallas, TX 75211
8:30am – 4:30pm

Sharon Davis, DO
Chief Medical Officer
Los Barrios Unidos Community Clinic

Kavon Young, MD
Chief Medical Officer
El Centro de Corazon

Ana Lia Gomez-Lopez, PMP, CCHW
Program Manager
Community Care Collaborative

In our changing health care environment, we are constantly looking for financially viable models that provide patient-centered care that improves quality and outcomes, while eliminating barriers to care and potentially reducing health care expenditures. Group medical care is an innovative model that does all of this through empowering patients and building community. Due to its emphasis on self-efficacy and peer-to-peer education, group medical visits are particularly well-suited to chronic disease management (i.e. diabetes, chronic pain, or depression), and can be equally effective when utilized for wellness and preventive visits (i.e. prenatal care, well-child checks, healthy weight, etc.). Group visits have also been shown to improve provider and staff satisfaction which we now understand to be the foundation of the Quadruple Aim.

While this is an emerging model, especially in medically underserved populations, there is a shortage of trainings nationwide in how to effectively facilitate groups. TACHC is committed to this model, and for this workshop we have the privilege of utilizing all-Texas FQHC trainers. This session will be led by Dr. Sharon Davis, the Chief Medical Officer of Los Barrios Unidos in Dallas, who trained with Dr. Edward Noffsinger, the pioneer of group visits, and who has been facilitating groups herself for 15 years. Additionally, the session will feature Dr. Oscar Cornelio Flores, the CMO at HOPE Clinic (AAHC) in Houston, Ana Lia Gomez-Lopez, a Certified Community Health Worker at the Community Care Collaborative in Austin, and Dr. Kavon Young, the CMO of El Centro de Corazon in Houston.

In order to successfully implement groups, it is recommended that a health center have a minimum of two staff members, including one clinical provider and one care-team member (i.e. MA, health educator, CHW, etc.), trained to facilitate and/or coordinate groups. This all-day training on-site at Los Barrios Unidos provides an opportunity to for participants who are interested in facilitating groups to:

1. Learn the basic tenets of group medical care including how it is an effective tool in providing patient-centered care, engaging and empowering patients through peer-to-peer education, and building community.
2. Expose participants to different group care models.
3. Discuss the logistics of how to initiate group medical care in your health center including seeing first-hand the spaces that can be utilized.
4. Understand how to document and bill for group medical care.
5. Learn to effectively communicate the benefits of group care to patients, clinicians, administrators, and beyond.
6. Develop and practice group facilitation skills.

Plenary Session
8:30am-10:00am

Welcome and Opening Remarks
José E. Camacho, JD
Executive Director/General Counsel
Texas Association of Community Health Centers

Meeting the Quadruple Aim - Health Care for All, Even the Staff...
0067-9999-16-067-L04P/T (1.25 contact hours at 0.125 CEUs)
Ben Brown, MD
Associate Clinical Professor
University of California San Francisco

The Triple Aim - improving health, reducing cost per capita and improving patients’ experiences of care – has become gold standard for community health centers for improving patient health and reducing health disparities. However, the Triple Aim forgot a vital target that must be hit to achieve sustainable patient outcomes: improving the health and wellbeing of health center staff. This session will detail how staff wellbeing is integral to the mission of health care delivery and will discuss obstacles to achieving staff wellbeing and practical solutions to start implementing the fourth aspect of the Quadruple Aim at your health center.

Learning Objectives:
1. Explain the Quadruple Aim: how staff well-being is integral to the mission of health care delivery.
2. Cite three problems with health care delivery that undermines staff’s sense of wellbeing.
3. Identify three practical solutions to implement at your health care setting that promote a sense of wellbeing.

Break with Exhibitors
10:00am – 10:30am

Concurrent Sessions
10:30am – 12:00pm

Session 1: Successful Recruitment: Factors to Market Your Community Health Center
Michelle Varcho, MBA, SPHR
Director of Education Outreach
National Rural Recruitment and Retention Network (3RNet)

Recruiting into a community health center presents its own set of unique challenges. This session will help you to explore the key factors of recruiting to Community Health Centers in rural or urban underserved areas. By exploring how each factor applies to your community and facility, you will enrich your ability to identify and market your organization strengths. This session will provide attendees a process on how to highlight the positive aspects of your rural or urban underserved community and help you recruit the right candidates to support and optimize your health center performance.
Learning Objectives:
1. Introduce key factors in recruitment and retention of Community Health Centers and describe why they are important.
2. Select up to 3 Factors in each category and complete CHC Factors Worksheet to identify Unique Selling Points (USP) through strengths.
3. Discuss possible solutions to recruiting challenges for up to 3 Factors in each category selected from CHC Factors Worksheet.

Session 2: Value-based Care: Meeting the Goals of the Quadruple Aim
0067-9999-16-068-L04P/T (1.50 contact hours at 0.150 CEUs)
Christie Lawrence, MS
VP, Business Development
KPN Health, Inc.

Whether your health center is participating in an Accountable Care Organization (ACO) or watching their progress on the state and national levels, this session will provide perspective on how this model of value-based care can contribute to patient outcomes, staff satisfaction, and the bottom line. You’ll learn best practices in care coordination, criteria for ACO success, and the growing importance of Transitional Care Management (TCM) and Chronic Care Management (CCM) billing codes.

Learning Objectives:
1. Cite the Medicare ACO models and describe how they get paid.
2. List three things that are and/or not working for managing the health of a population.
3. Evaluate three best practices for care coordination.

Session 3: Identifying Barriers and Solutions: A Liberated Approach to Patient Issues and Patient Satisfaction
0067-9999-16-069-L04P/T (1.50 contact hours at 0.150 CEUs)
Anna Jackson, MSSW
Founder, Consultant
Alpinista Consulting

Our health centers play an important role in our communities, and our patients look to us for leadership on more than healthcare. Engaging our patients and identifying what matters most to them is key to patient retention and health center success. Come to this interactive workshop on identifying patient and community issues, and leave with tools to embolden and empower your team!

Learning Objectives:
1. Describe methods on how to engage patients to assist providers on what is critical to patient’s care.
2. Demonstrate techniques on how to interact with patients to learn more about their lives than just their medical issues.
3. Identify practices of strong leadership to assess patients and develop solutions to their many needs.

Session 4: Predicting Tomorrow by Crunching Today's Numbers: Data Dashboards
0067-9999-16-070-L04P/T (1.50 contact hours at 0.150 CEUs)
David Hartzband, DSc
Founder and Principal, PostTechnical Research and Research Scholar, Sociotechnical Systems Research Center, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Cheryl Poe
Chief Operations Officer
Community Health Service Agency

In the fast-paced healthcare environment, it is constantly necessary to make quick decisions. Effective utilization of data is key to asking the right questions to drive decision-making. This session will provide theories and examples of how to organize available data resources and consider effective ways to communicate the information.

Learning Objectives:
1. Explain what data resources are available today.
2. Discuss how to organize data questions and to stimulate conversation and generate ideas.
3. Identify data elements necessary to share with staff and ways to present information in order to drive decision making.
Networking Luncheon – 2016 TACHC President’s Awards

Session 2: The Listening Gap: Heard Patients are Satisfied Patients
0067-9999-16-071-L04P/T (1.50 contact hours at 0.15 CEUs)
Dhruv Khullar, MD, MPP
Resident Physician
Massachusetts General Hospital

While community health centers do more than provide healthcare to our patients, but the provider interaction still has a major impact on patient experience, satisfaction, and clinical outcomes. Join this session to hear more about how listening, relationship building, and addressing social determinants of health can lead to happier and healthier patients and providers.

Learning Objectives:
1. Discuss the importance of understanding patient stories on patient and provider satisfaction and on health center efficacy.
2. Identify key elements of relationship building and its role in patient satisfaction, compliance, and retention.
3. Evaluate the social determinants of health impact on patient outcomes and adherence to treatment, and the impact of considering these issues.

Session 3: Improving Your Bottom Line: How to Keep Your Staff
0067-9999-16-072-L04P/T (1.50 contact hours at 0.15 CEUs)
Karl Krumm, PhD
Consultant
Consulting Psychology

Staff retention is essential to the bottom line of a successful organization. Having an engaged staff is crucial to retain staff. This session will discuss the financial impact of staff engagement and identify strategies to understand and improve the level of staff engagement in an organization. Dr. Krumm will present proven techniques that organizations can use.

Learning Objectives:
1. Define methodologies to estimate the financial impact of staff engagement and improvement of staff engagement.
2. Evaluate strategies to assess and improve staff engagement.
3. Identify different personality traits and how to create positive interaction and thus improve staff engagement.

Health center leaders know that addressing social determinants of health are vital to improving the health, wellness, and overall well-being of our patients and communities. However, many of us are overwhelmed by the need to provide comprehensive social service resources in addition to our healthcare mission. Come learn from three experts on community partnerships on how to develop, maintain, and strengthen your community relationships in the service of improving patient care, loyalty, and health outcomes.

Learning Objectives:
1. Discuss the importance and value of partnerships in improving health center’s clinical care and patient outcomes.
2. Identify key elements of developing and sustaining strong partnerships to improve health center services.
3. Describe concrete steps to improve existing and developing new partnerships to improve outcomes for patients.

Session 3: What Can Private Foundations Offer You?
3:30pm – 5:00pm
Regina Rogoff BA, JD
Chief Executive Officer
People’s Community Clinic
Jo Z. Carcedo, MPAff, MBA
Vice President for Grants
Episcopal Health Foundation

Health centers are continuously seeking ways to diversify revenue sources. While patient revenues and government grant funding provide much of health center funding, foundations and private grants contributed almost $87,000,000 to health center funding in 2015. In this session a private foundation and a Texas health center discuss how private foundations can contribute to the efforts of health centers to provide care in their communities.

Learning Objectives:
1. Discuss how a private foundation views its role in supporting community-based primary care.
2. List ideas on how to strategically use private philanthropy.
3. Describe how one community health center uses private foundations to advance their mission.

Changing What "Counts" as Healthcare
0067-9999-16-074-L04P/T (1.50 contact hours at 0.15 CEUs)
Rebecca Onie, JD
Co-Founder and Chief Executive Officer
Health Leads
This session will discuss the critical role community health centers play in addressing patients’ social needs -- as a strategy for improving care for vulnerable patient populations and for serving communities. It will also discuss key success drivers for making the routine collection of social determinants of health information, and the navigation of patients to the resources they need to be healthy, a standard part of care delivery, and what it will take to enact a paradigm shift around what "counts" as healthcare.

Learning Objectives:
1. Evaluate the role of health centers in addressing patients’ social needs as a strategy for improving care for vulnerable patient populations.
2. Explain how healthcare providers can approach their work to account for and successfully address the critical drivers of health outcomes.
3. Demonstrate the key changes that must be enacted in order to enable a paradigm shift towards a broader conception of health.

Break with Exhibitors
10:00am – 10:30am

Concurrent Sessions
10:30am – 12:00pm

Session 1: The Visa Flip Side: Make the Cost-Benefit Work for You
Robert D. Aronson
Attorney at Law
Frederickson & Byron, P.A.

Working to recruit physicians during a time of physician shortage will require you to become proactive and receptive to considering new sources of physicians, including International Medical Graduates. Attorney Robert Aronson will discuss the fundamentals of physician immigration and how to make immigration work for your recruitment needs. Mr. Aronson will present and contrast the various options for J-1 visa waivers and show how immigration fits into the Quadruple Aim. This session will teach you how to use immigration in order to gain a competitive edge when considering qualified international medical graduates to join your provider team.

Learning Objectives:
1. Learn the fundamentals of immigration law as it pertains to International Medical Graduates
2. Discuss how to make immigration a positive recruitment advantage
3. Review the Texas Conrad 30 J-1 Visa Waiver Program and the Exchange Visitor Program managed by the Department of Health and Human Services

Session 2: Reaching Your Patient Goals with Culturally Competent Care: Special Populations & Your Health Center
0067-9999-16-076-L04P/T (1.50 contact hour at 0.15 CEU)
Katy Stewart, CPSC, CPS
Training Director and Board Member
Lesbian Health Initiative
Clark Gullette, CPSC, CPS
Veteran Peer Service Coordinator of Collin County
LifePath Systems

Hear from experts on serving health center special populations, including Veterans and the LGBT community, on how to provide and improve culturally competent care for these populations. Reaching patient goals and serving every member of our community is a key component of both our mission and health center success. Hear from these experts on how to successfully reach these populations and retain them at your health center.

Learning Objectives:
1. Discuss how to provide culturally competent care to Veterans, the LGBT community, and other special populations.
2. Evaluate how to make their health center more welcoming and appealing as a healthcare delivery point for all patients.
3. Identify opportunities to improve cultural competency for special populations at their health center.
Session 4: Billing in an Age of Health Center Innovation: Getting Paid for What You Do
Rebekah Wallace, CMPE, CPC, MCS-P
Senior Managing Consultant
BKD, LLP

The ways in which services are delivered in the health center environment in constantly changing. This session will provide guidance to centers on the governing rules related to billing with the new service delivery methodologies. Health center staff will have the opportunity to ask billing questions about these methodologies or other topics of interest and receive expert technical assistance.

Learning Objectives:
1. Explain the technical assistance available to health centers.
2. Describe the changes in billing rules governing new service delivery methodologies.
3. Discuss billing processes to maximize revenue for new billing opportunities.
